

GEORGETOWN PREPS LAND COACH VAIL

Famous Cambridge Oarsman
Will Take Charge of West End Crew.
CALL FOR WORK-OUT
ON THE MACHINES
Squad Will Train Under Instructor
Until After Henley Regatta in May.

Devotees of aquatic at Georgetown were given a big surprise today when it was officially announced that Harry Vail, the well-known Cambridge oarsman, had been secured to coach the Preps from March 1 until after the American Henley at Philadelphia in May.

Vail last season coached the Georgetown varsity crew with fair success. The crew won New York University in the only match race rowed last season. It finished well up in the one-mile open race in the Henley regatta last spring. It was also under Vail's training that the Preps succeeded in breaking the world's intercollegiate record for one mile on the Schuylkill river against the best prep school eight in the United States.

Captain Ryan will call the men out for work on the machines in the Ryan gymnasium February 13. But two of last year's eight are at Georgetown. From available material the Preps expect to repeat their performances of last year.

RACING IS STOPPED ON ORLEANS TRACK

Governor Threatens Officials
If Betting Is Not Discontinued.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 23.—After continuing for a week, the race meet at Suburban Park, in Jefferson parish, across the Mississippi River from New Orleans, today was closed, at least temporarily. The announcement of the suspension was made at the conclusion of the fourth race, shortly after John Sheehan, of Memphis, a bookmaker, had been arrested on the charge of violating the Locke anti-racing law.

Sheehan's arrest followed a telegraphic order from Governor Sanders to the district attorney of Jefferson parish. The telegram said that "unless the betting on horse races is stopped immediately, as well as the gambling at Southport, the Locke anti-racing law, I shall take a hand myself."

Longboat primed for race tonight. Indian Ready for Brush With Spring and Hallen in Newark.

NEWARK, Jan. 23.—Everything is in readiness for the big relay race tonight in the Essex Troop armory between Mike Spring and Bob Hallen, as a team, and Tom Longboat, the speedy Redskin. The distance is ten miles, and Spring and Hallen are to run five miles each.

Longboat has finished his training. He is in splendid form, and says the race with Spring and Hallen will be only an exercise gallop for him, and will really help him in his preparation for the Marathon race with Al Shrubb in Madison Square Garden on Tuesday night.

SCROGGS AND BURNS
BATTLE TO A DRAW
Harry Does the Work While Soldier Claims to Have Sprained a Hand.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 23.—Before the Furka Athletic club, at Germania Maennerchor Hall, Harry Scroggs and Soldier Burns fought a fifteen-round draw battle.

Last night's exhibition was not especially interesting. Scroggs did the real fighting. Burns seldom landed a lead, but relied on his infighting. Burns handlers said he had sprained his left hand—a training accident—and this handicapped him. Whether it was sprained or not, Burns used it very seldom, and generally tried to heel without it.

Scroggs landed by far the greater number of blows, but they had not force enough to distress the Soldier to any great extent.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP.
The announcement was made today by a prominent politician that the proposed bill to prohibit boxing matches and sparring exhibitions in Pennsylvania would not be made a law at the present session of the Legislature.

Harry Baker, the clever California featherweight, wants to meet Jim Driscoll in the ring, in order to give the English boxer no chance to quibble. Baker says he will take him on at catch-weights for any number of rounds.

Tom McCarey, the Los Angeles boxing promoter, is trying to get three Western heavyweights to box Sam Langford ten rounds each on the same night.

Abel Attell announces that he will box Jim Driscoll if the latter weighs 124 pounds at the ringside and on no other conditions.

Bill Gibson, manager of the Fairmount Athletic Club, of Philadelphia, is trying to arrange a bout round fight between Joe Thomas and Hugo Kelly.

Sam Wallach, brother of Leach Cross, wants to match the latter against Paeky McFarland, and will probably meet in New York next month.

Willie Fitzgerald boxes Young Donahue in Boston on Monday night, and he will be matched against Dick Nelson at the Sharkey Club, New York, in two months.

UNGLAUB BOOM CALLS TRIBUTE TO GANLEY

Washington Fans Pay Tardy
Acknowledgment to Services of Captain.

SUCCESS WITH MEN
HARD TO EXPLAIN
Devotion to Cause of Nationals Offsets Many Obvious Deficiencies in Bob's Make-up.

It may be true that a poet seldom comes into his own until he has shuffled off this mortal coil, but a baseball player occasionally gets a portion of his when he is in danger of losing his job.

The rumors that Unglaub might be slated to succeed Bob Ganley as captain of the Washington Baseball Club has stirred up something of a furore among the Nationals' fans. Not that Ganley has ever been rated as one of Washington's most popular players at that.

In the short time that one William Burns was allied with the Nationals he won over many admirers for his straightforward squareness, and there are many who fail to see his claim to a headline position of Washington's pitching staff, who declare his personality makes him a credit to baseball, and would, by the same token, make him a desirable asset for the Washington club.

This matter of personality, as has recently been pointed out by a number of well-known baseball managers, is as potent a factor in a baseball player's career as is that of an actor in any other profession.

In view of this, it may be a little hard on the first analysis to explain the hold Ganley has gained on Washington fans. For Captain Bob has never posed as a lovable character, nor is he one of those temperamental blunt individuals like Cantillon, whose tactfulness is reckoned a valuable asset in his job of handling men.

Ganley, on the other hand, is a somewhat fiery and erratic individual off the ball field, prone to a type of sarcasm that stings and approaches danger near "bullying." But few of the players have doubted, save a newcomer like Bill Burns, who had not time to get acclimated, that when on the ball field Ganley's one thought was for the success of the team. His fortunate slump in Robert's batting average last season was felt by none of the players more deeply than by Ganley himself.

Spicy Notes and Newsy Pickups Gleaned From Capital Garages and Auto Owners and Agencies

Last Saturday night chauffeurs of this city held a meeting in the chauffeurs' quarters of the L. P. Dorsett garage, corner Seventeenth and U streets northwest, and organized a club which will be known as the Automobile Operators and Mechanics' Association of the District of Columbia. The meeting was attended by thirty-two chauffeurs representing nearly every garage in the city, and as many more have signed their intention of joining the association in the near future. The association will elect officers, and will hold monthly meetings in quarters to be selected at a later date. The members will listen to occasional lectures by men prominent in the automobile world, on subjects dealing with the modern type of an automobile and its parts.

The Diplomatic Corps was represented at the automobile show in New York by Wu Ting-fang, the Chinese minister, and Edmund Grey, a secretary of the British embassy.

A. L. Manson, Eastern manager of the Federal Taxicab Company of Washington, is expected in town within the next few days for a short visit to his family. Mr. Manson is now connected with the Taxi-Motor Cab Company, of Boston, Mass.

Charles Miles, a representative of the Spriggs Auto Company, of Dayton, Ohio, was in Washington last week.

H. Dunlop's 60-horsepower Fiat, which was badly damaged in a recent accident at Savannah, has been rebuilt and is being stored at the Auto Sales garage.

Les Hechinger, of Washington, is among the many Washingtonians attending the Automobile Show in New York.

A Peerless touring car, the property of Senator Elkins, is being brought to

DIES FROM INJURY IN FOOTBALL GAME

Boy Hurt on Thanksgiving Day
Succumbs After Long Period of Suffering.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 23.—Sixteen-year-old Samuel Moore lies dead at his home as the result of injuries received in a football game on Thanksgiving Day.

The boy was kicked during the game, and was taken to his home at 115 Pearl street. He was a member of the team of the Sunday school of the North Baptist Church. Since the game Moore has been suffering constant pain, and ten days ago his condition became serious.

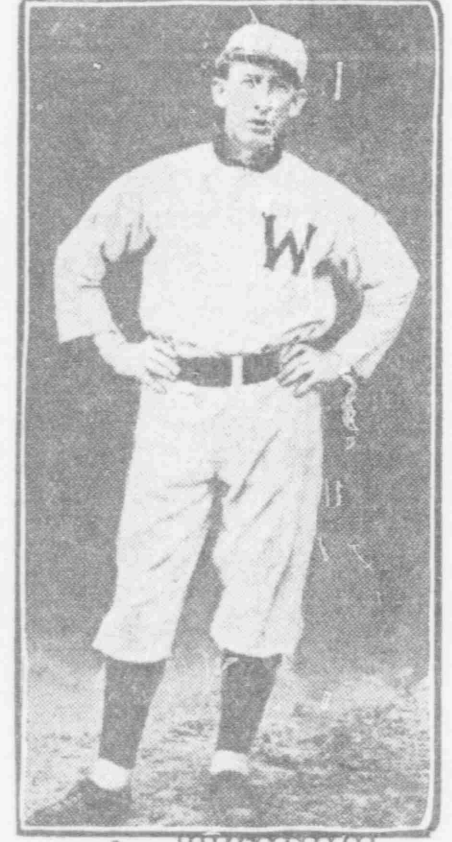

HOLDS NOTARY RECORD.

STANTON, Va., Jan. 23.—Joseph B. Woodward has just been reappointed a notary public for Augusta county by Governor Swanson. In transmitting his commission, the governor expressed great pleasure in appointing a man who had been so long in the public service. Woodward has been a notary for thirty-seven years, holding the record here, and has been in the county and circuit clerk's offices almost continually since 1868.

THROWN OUT DOOR.

ALTOONA, Pa., Jan. 23.—Alderman W. Campbell and Dr. E. E. Goodman, well-known citizens, became involved in an altercation in the former's office today, when the doctor was struck with a poker and catapulted through the door by the magistrate, aided by an officer.

PULLMAN BEST OF MURPHY'S SCALP

BOB GANLEY,
Captain Washington Baseball Team.

In his own peculiar way Captain Bob seems to inspire spirit and dash in his players. Cantillon and baseball fans of long standing hesitate to question too closely the methods of a captain or manager as long as he produces results. For anyone who knows the game is also aware that most managers could give Mr. Oscar Hammerstein pointers on managing prima donnas.

While Ganley, on account of his rowdy methods, has not come in for a very large share of glory in the little success that has attended the Nationals, it is not required a rumor that he was about to be retired to elicit a chorus of tardy tributes from fans who have watched his work on the ball field. Even those fans who deplore the departure of Burns do not wish to supplement this by the loss of Ganley, with no other compensation than the mild comfort such a contingency would afford the aggrieved twister.

Seldom can a larger proportion of baseball followers see Unglaub on the job with a spyglass. In disposition the erstwhile Bostonian is strikingly similar to Ganley, but he lacks the asset of handling men to the best advantage, which offsets other drawbacks on the part of Captain Bob.

Unglaub's brief career in Boston stands as a monument to his aspirations as a captain, and Washington seems to have little desire to erect another marble headstone to his memory in that capacity.

LOWE CHALLENGED BY VETERAN BOXER

Billy Whistler Sounds Defi-
for Fifteen-Round Battle With Washingtonian.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 23.—Believing that he can still deliver the goods with the best lightweight in this section, Billy Whistler, the veteran local boxer, is city tonight the past, and is expected to return the latter part of next week.

George W. Wells has returned from the New York show, where he renewed his contract as local agent for the Royal motorcycle. A shipment of the 1909 model Royal is expected about February 1. The new Royal is said to be the superior of the old model in every respect, and an excellent type of the modern cycle.

G. H. Thomas, a Washington business man, is among the latest storage customers at the Automobile Garage. He drives a 4-horsepower Columbia touring car.

H. A. Lewis is storing his Brush roadster at the Auto Sales Garage.

A. L. Kline, manager of the Auto Livery Company, has returned from a visit to the automobile show of the International Automobile Manufacturers' Association, now in session in Madison Square Garden, New York.

Several storage customers of the Belmont Garage spent a few days at the New York show. The property included E. Blum's 10-horsepower car, and a 1909 model Stoddard-Dayton car is expected at the L. P. Dorsett Garage in the near future.

A shipment including seven 1909 model Stoddard-Dayton cars is expected at the L. P. Dorsett Garage in the near future.

CONTEND FOR TITLE IN WHIST TOURNEY

Record-Breaking List of Entries
Await Start of Event Next Thursday.
The championship whist tournament of the Washington Chess, Checker, and Whist Club will start next Thursday in the rooms of the Club on Twelfth street. Secretary Lavender reports a record-breaking entry list, and the fight for honors promises to be interesting. The matches will continue for the three succeeding Thursday evenings.

The chess contingent of the club has arranged another match with the Baltimore Chess Club to be played in this city early in February. The same teams met early in the season, when the locals defeated their opponents by 4 to 2 points. The Baltimoreans are said to be out for revenge, and will send a large team to this city in an effort to regain lost laurels.

WALSH MAY COACH OLD ELI PITCHERS

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 23.—Edward Walsh, pitcher of the Chicago Americans, was in this city today for consultation with the captain and manager of the Yale University baseball team with a view to coaching the Yale pitchers during the coming season. It is understood that there have been negotiations with Pitcher Luckey, of the Boston Nationals, for the same purpose, but that he has been unable to come to New Haven.

Paddy Sullivan, who boxes Mickey Gannon at the National Athletic Club in Philadelphia tomorrow night, has the famous—

SHOOMAKER
PENN. RYE
Ten years old, $12.50
Order by phone.
The Shoemaker Co.
Established 1853.
101 E. St. N. W. Phone Main 1113-M.

CAPITAL VARSITIES ARRANGE SCHEDULES

Gallaudet Has Hardest Series in History of
Its Nine.

Opens on March 27 With Annual Navy Skir-nish
at Annapolis.

The schedule follows:
March 19—Central High School.
March 23—Central High School.
March 27—United States Naval Academy.
April 3—Central High School.
April 10—Eastern High School.
April 13—Richmond College, at Kendall Green.

April 14—Theological Seminary, at Alexandria, Va.
April 15—Eastern High School.
April 17—Washington College, at Chesterton, Md.
April 19—Eastern High School.
April 21—Georgetown University, at Baltimore.

April 24—Maryland Agriculture, at Kendall Green.
April 25—Catholic University, at Brookland, D. C.
April 29—Central High School, at Kendall Green.
May 3—St. John's College, at Kendall Green.

May 4—Bloomington, at Kendall Green.
May 13—St. Joseph's.
May 15—Mt. Washington, at Kendall Green.
May 23—Catholic University, at Kendall Green.
May 26—M. A. C., at College Park, Md.

The world's champion 181 lb. balt line brawler, match between George Sutton, champion, and G. F. Slosson, challenger, will take place Tuesday night in the Madison Square Garden Central Hall, New York city.

There is no chance for Adrian C. to get the berth of supervisor of umpires, for Harry C. now arrogates this duty to himself, and has picked his successor in this line without the aid of Murphy. When Pullman gives up the supervision of his umpires the job will go to Bob Emms, as most of the National League managers know. Pullman thinks it is a good lead, although it is Murphy's, to have Anson rewarded with some success in the line of baseball, and suggests that Murphy employ Anson as a scout for the Cubs.

There is no chance for Adrian C. to get the berth of supervisor of umpires, for Harry C. now arrogates this duty to himself, and has picked his successor in this line without the aid of Murphy. When Pullman gives up the supervision of his umpires the job will go to Bob Emms, as most of the National League managers know. Pullman thinks it is a good lead, although it is Murphy's, to have Anson rewarded with some success in the line of baseball, and suggests that Murphy employ Anson as a scout for the Cubs.

Murphy's recent desire to aid Anson seems peculiar. According to the veteran, the veteran local boxer, is city tonight the past, and is expected to return the latter part of next week.

Not only is dancing sport, but it is an airy, fairy art which calls for perfect poise and proper play of every component part of the physical and spiritual man. So the dancing master is a very important personage to the sportsman.

As an athletic exercise, tripping the light fantastic toe brings into play most of the muscles of the body.

For the pugilist in training, there is no better diversion.

The waltz or the two-step teaches him to be light on his feet.

Dancing is an athletic sport. Also an esthetic sport.

When a young lady says to her soul mate, "Waltz me around again, Willie; round and round and round," he must be able to respond with the delicate touch of a sea gull skimming the broad Atlantic.

Not only is dancing sport, but it is an airy, fairy art which calls for perfect poise and proper play of every component part of the physical and spiritual man. So the dancing master is a very important personage to the sportsman.

As an athletic exercise, tripping the light fantastic toe brings into play most of the muscles of the body.

For the pugilist in training, there is no better diversion.

The waltz or the two-step teaches him to be light on his feet.

Only an artful dodger can avoid the jabs and jolts so indigenous to the swirling ballroom.

Perhaps the greatest lesson keeping time with the music teaches is how to "break away" and avoid clinches of your young woman partner.

No athletic man may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to dance his athletic education goes for naught.

His eyes may roll with a fine frenzy, he may be as handsome as all out of doors, he may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to dance his athletic education goes for naught.

His eyes may roll with a fine frenzy, he may be as handsome as all out of doors, he may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to dance his athletic education goes for naught.

His eyes may roll with a fine frenzy, he may be as handsome as all out of doors, he may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to dance his athletic education goes for naught.

His eyes may roll with a fine frenzy, he may be as handsome as all out of doors, he may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to dance his athletic education goes for naught.

His eyes may roll with a fine frenzy, he may be as handsome as all out of doors, he may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to dance his athletic education goes for naught.

His eyes may roll with a fine frenzy, he may be as handsome as all out of doors, he may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to dance his athletic education goes for naught.

His eyes may roll with a fine frenzy, he may be as handsome as all out of doors, he may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

CAPITAL VARSITIES ARRANGE SCHEDULES

Gallaudet Has Hardest Series in History of
Its Nine.

Opens on March 27 With Annual Navy Skir-nish
at Annapolis.

The schedule follows:
March 19—Central High School.
March 23—Central High School.
March 27—United States Naval Academy.
April 3—Central High School.
April 10—Eastern High School.
April 13—Richmond College, at Kendall Green.

April 14—Theological Seminary, at Alexandria, Va.
April 15—Eastern High School.
April 17—Washington College, at Chesterton, Md.
April 19—Eastern High School.
April 21—Georgetown University, at Baltimore.

April 24—Maryland Agriculture, at Kendall Green.
April 25—Catholic University, at Brookland, D. C.
April 29—Central High School, at Kendall Green.
May 3—St. John's College, at Kendall Green.

May 4—Bloomington, at Kendall Green.
May 13—St. Joseph's.
May 15—Mt. Washington, at Kendall Green.
May 23—Catholic University, at Kendall Green.
May 26—M. A. C., at College Park, Md.

The world's champion 181 lb. balt line brawler, match between George Sutton, champion, and G. F. Slosson, challenger, will take place Tuesday night in the Madison Square Garden Central Hall, New York city.

There is no chance for Adrian C. to get the berth of supervisor of umpires, for Harry C. now arrogates this duty to himself, and has picked his successor in this line without the aid of Murphy. When Pullman gives up the supervision of his umpires the job will go to Bob Emms, as most of the National League managers know. Pullman thinks it is a good lead, although it is Murphy's, to have Anson rewarded with some success in the line of baseball, and suggests that Murphy employ Anson as a scout for the Cubs.

There is no chance for Adrian C. to get the berth of supervisor of umpires, for Harry C. now arrogates this duty to himself, and has picked his successor in this line without the aid of Murphy. When Pullman gives up the supervision of his umpires the job will go to Bob Emms, as most of the National League managers know. Pullman thinks it is a good lead, although it is Murphy's, to have Anson rewarded with some success in the line of baseball, and suggests that Murphy employ Anson as a scout for the Cubs.

Murphy's recent desire to aid Anson seems peculiar. According to the veteran, the veteran local boxer, is city tonight the past, and is expected to return the latter part of next week.

Not only is dancing sport, but it is an airy, fairy art which calls for perfect poise and proper play of every component part of the physical and spiritual man. So the dancing master is a very important personage to the sportsman.

As an athletic exercise, tripping the light fantastic toe brings into play most of the muscles of the body.

For the pugilist in training, there is no better diversion.

The waltz or the two-step teaches him to be light on his feet.

Dancing is an athletic sport. Also an esthetic sport.

When a young lady says to her soul mate, "Waltz me around again, Willie; round and round and round," he must be able to respond with the delicate touch of a sea gull skimming the broad Atlantic.

Not only is dancing sport, but it is an airy, fairy art which calls for perfect poise and proper play of every component part of the physical and spiritual man. So the dancing master is a very important personage to the sportsman.

As an athletic exercise, tripping the light fantastic toe brings into play most of the muscles of the body.

For the pugilist in training, there is no better diversion.

The waltz or the two-step teaches him to be light on his feet.

Only an artful dodger can avoid the jabs and jolts so indigenous to the swirling ballroom.

Perhaps the greatest lesson keeping time with the music teaches is how to "break away" and avoid clinches of your young woman partner.

No athletic man may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to dance his athletic education goes for naught.

His eyes may roll with a fine frenzy, he may be as handsome as all out of doors, he may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to dance his athletic education goes for naught.

His eyes may roll with a fine frenzy, he may be as handsome as all out of doors, he may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to dance his athletic education goes for naught.

His eyes may roll with a fine frenzy, he may be as handsome as all out of doors, he may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to dance his athletic education goes for naught.

His eyes may roll with a fine frenzy, he may be as handsome as all out of doors, he may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to dance his athletic education goes for naught.

His eyes may roll with a fine frenzy, he may be as handsome as all out of doors, he may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to dance his athletic education goes for naught.

His eyes may roll with a fine frenzy, he may be as handsome as all out of doors, he may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to dance his athletic education goes for naught.

His eyes may roll with a fine frenzy, he may be as handsome as all out of doors, he may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to dance his athletic education goes for naught.

RICHMOND PICKS FAST RELAY TEAM

Spiders Named to Run Against Georgetown at Baltimore Meet.

FOUR IS SELECTED
FROM LARGE FIELD
Classy Squad Also Slated to Compete in Coming Washington Indoor Meets.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 23.—Richmond College track team, which will run against that of Georgetown University in Baltimore on January 26, has been selected. The team consists of Captain Bristow, Meek, Lodge, Lankford, and Struther.

The team was selected from a field of fifteen candidates, who were given their final trial yesterday afternoon. Lankford will be entered in the shot-put, and should make a good showing with sufficient handicap. This is the only individual entry that the Spiders will make as the team has not had enough time to develop in any of the runs outside of the relay distance.

A large squad will be sent to the meets in Washington, when there will be many entries from the Richmond institution. Amcarrow, Harris, Frost, Gill, Adamson, Wilson, and Snyder are all promising candidates for the middle-distance runs and should put in a strong bid for places in the coming races.

Two games with Fredericksburg, dates not settled; nine games pending with Holy Cross, Johns Hopkins, and University of Maryland.

ARRANGE DRISCOLL GO.
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Jim Driscoll, the champion featherweight of England, who has caused a sensation in this country by the way in which he has bested all the good fighters, has just been matched to meet another good scrapper. His next opponent will be Johnny Marto, the same local light-weight, whom he will meet in a ten-round bout at the stage of the Fairmont Athletic Club on next Thursday night.

Only an artful dodger can avoid the jabs and jolts so indigenous to the swirling ballroom.

Perhaps the greatest lesson keeping time with the music teaches is how to "break away" and avoid clinches of your young woman partner.

No athletic man may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to dance his athletic education goes for naught.

His eyes may roll with a fine frenzy, he may be as handsome as all out of doors, he may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to dance his athletic education goes for naught.

His eyes may roll with a fine frenzy, he may be as handsome as all out of doors, he may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to dance his athletic education goes for naught.

His eyes may roll with a fine frenzy, he may be as handsome as all out of doors, he may be able to swim, golf, hunt or box, but if his untutored arm doesn't know just how to encircle a bearded waist, he will not make a dancer worth his salt.

Unless a young man knows how to